Remembering Robert Owen researched by Jackie Poole

Robert Owen was the Spirit Guide of Emma Hardinge Britten, who 13 years after his transition to Spirit in 1871, during a seance, he communicated that he wished to give a set of spiritual commandments through Emma. These commandments later became 'The seven principles of spiritualism' that we still have today. The séance was attended by Emma's mother and Robert Owen's son - Robert Dale Owen, among others. It is 225 years ago this year since Robert Owen's passing to Spirit and I felt it important that he should also be remembered both as a guide of Emma Hardinge Britten's and as a Spiritualist.

He was born in Montgomeryshire Wales on May 14th, 1771 and he was one of seven children. He had little schooling as he became a draper's apprentice at the age of 10 and he worked in London shops through his teen years. The Draper had many philosophical books and Robert was an avid reader. He went to work in Manchester when he was 18 and in his 20's he became involved with philosophical and reformist groups that progressed his ideas. His work life progressed that resulted in him owning a cotton spinning mill that became one of Britain's largest cotton producers and he strove to advance working conditions for his employees, and he promoted the creation of experimental socialistic communities.

He was a philanthropist and social reformer and founder of utopian socialism, he sought a more collective approach to child rearing, including government control of education. He was a pioneer in factory reform, the father of distributive cooperation, and the founder of nursery schools; he pioneered education for young children. He married Ann Carolina Dale, a merchant's daughter in 1799 and they had eight children. He travelled to America with one of his sons called Robert Dale Owen, who later was an attendee at Emma Hardinge Britten's circle that I mentioned earlier. This son is also known as a socialist reformer and politician in America who had his father's ideals. (His grandfather was also called Robert Owen)

Owen invested much of his fortune in an experimental socialistic community in Indiana and in 1828, he returned to London where he fought for the working-class and supported trade unions. Owen raised the demand for an eight- hour-working- day in 1810, and set about instituting this policy. He formulated the eight- hour working day with the slogan "eight hours labour, eight hours recreation, eight hours rest ". He was also the founder of nursery schools; education for young children.

Although Owen could be considered a member of the bourgeoisie, his relationship with this class was often complicated. Owen believed no matter the background that one has whether rich or poor, one can always change the status quo and be unlike anyone before. He was a socialist visionary.

For most of his life, Robert considered all religions as false teachings. However, in 1854, he became a Spiritualist after a series of sittings with the American medium, Maria B Hayden (one of the mediums associated with bringing Spiritualism to England) and during these seances he had contact with the spirits of Benjamin Franklin and Thomas Jefferson. He publicly announced that he was a Spiritualist at the age of 83 and made a public announcement of his new faith in a publication, 'The Rational Quarterly Review' in a pamphlet titled, "The Future of the Human Race " and he published his memoirs, 'The Life of Robert Owen' in 1857, He passed to Spirit a year later in 1858, aged 87. He is remembered as a reformer, author, philanthropist, Pioneer, community builder, socialist, and a spiritualist who gave us 'The Seven Principles of Spiritualism' who spent his life seeking to improve the lives of others. In his own words, 'he was ahead of his time'

Getting to the SAGB

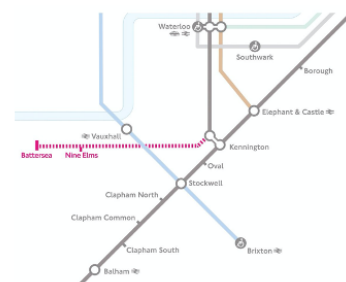

Getting to the SAGB has become a lot easier for those of us north of the river. At present I have to catch the Northern Line, change to the Victoria Line to Victoria Station and then catch a train to Battersea Park Station.

As of the end of September 2021 the Northern Line is running with four trains an hour on weekends. This will mean, for me at least, that I can travel on the Northern Line from my home to Battersea Park on the same train. Thereafter it will be a short seven minute walk to the SAGB.

Now the extension Has opened there will be an initial peak of six trains per hour, increasing to 12 trains per hour During off-peak times there will be five trains per hour, doubling to 10

Helping to get to the SAGB (after all that is what counts, isn't it) it will help regenerate the Vauxhall, Nine Elms and Battersea areas by supporting new jobs, businesses and homes.

Martin Thompson SAGB Healer and Clinic Leader

SEVEN PRINCIPLES OF THE SAGB

We believe in an Infinite Intelligence,
Who governs all.

We believe that personal identity and all sentient forms of life survive physical death.

We believe that continuous existence and eternal progress occur for all in the Hereafter.

We believe in communion with spiritual realms.

We believe that all humanity is spiritually linked.

We believe that in the Hereafter, all must account for their actions on earth and will judge themselves accordingly.

We believe that all are responsible for the way they conduct their earthly lives.

OUR PHILOSOPHY AND PURPOSE

The primary purpose of the Association is to offer evidence, through mediumship, of the continuation of the personality after physical death and to relieve suffering through spiritual healing.

Saturdays: with Janet Glasgow once a month

Flower reading ~ Ribbon reading ~ Photo reading ~ Psychometry

April 27th - Ribbon reading - Choose from one of many ribbons provided

May 25th - Photo reading - Please bring a photo of someone you know who has passed to spirit or on the earth plane.

*June 22nd - Psychometry - Jewellery letters, Keys etc small objects reading
Please bring a small item to place on the table*

July 6th - Flower reading - please bring your own fresh flower

Psychometry - being able to feel into and become aware of the history of an object, a photo, a colour etc, through the residual energy left behind of the owner who may be in spirit or here on the earth plane. In doing so, information about the object and its owner reveals itself in an often surprising and moving way.

Please note that you should place the object on the table when you come into the auditorium. The medium then comes in when everything has been placed down to ensure that nothing was witnessed by her before the meeting commences.

The Healing Hymn Gracious Spirit

Gracious Spirit, of thy goodness
Hear our anxious prayer
Take our loved ones who are suffering
'Neath thy tender care
Loving Father hear us, hear us

Gracious Spirit may thy presence
Shed a Healing Ray
Turning all their nights of darkness
Into glorious day
Loving Father hear us, hear us

Gracious Spirit, should'st thou claim them
Be their Light and Guide
Lead them to the heavenly kingdom
Safely by thy side
Loving father hear us, hear us
