EVENT DETAILS

Join Penny O'Meara and Janet Glasgow as they work with you in revealing how your intuitive, psychic and mediumistic abilities can help in solving mysteries presented in society today.

This is a unique opportunity to study the intriguing world of Psychic Detection and Forensic Mediumship with the guidance of Penny and Janet to provide you with the skills and concepts required to help in solving mysteries in society.

Through the practice of essential skills and applying these to a range of investigative situations commonly encountered by mediums, psychics and intuitives, this course over four Saturdays will present techniques which might help law enforcement, private investigators, researchers, families and individuals bring questions, searches and investigations to a close or find a resolution. In the sessions you will work on cases where your information can be verified by your teachers or sometimes your own research, and also have time to ask questions.

This is an enlightening, serious, stimulating and gratifying course that will help your development, and prepare you for the follow-on course where more complex cases are presented, and which will also generate a deeper consideration of aspects of psychic detection and forensic mediumship.
