Remembering Andrew Jackson Davis, researched by Jackie Poole

Andrew Jackson Davis was born in Blooming Grove, New York on August 11th, 1826, and passed to Spirit on the 13th January 1910, aged 83. He was one of the important founders of 'Modern Spiritualism' and also predicted the rise of 'Spiritualism,' years before the Fox sisters' Hydesville wrappings in 1848.

He was a medium, channel. Young Davis, had gifts of clairvoyance and heard voices at an early age. On advice so obtained, he persuaded his father in 1838, to move to Poughkeepsie, New York where he worked as an apprentice shoemaker in the trade for two years.

He was compelled to leave and "search for truth!" and he attended lectures on magnetism. He then began to develop more and sit in trance and he received 'spiritual messages', telling him of his, "to be 'life work'". He developed transparent sight in trance, and was able to give correct diagnoses within the physical body. And he became known as, 'The Poughkeepsie Seer.'

He had meetings with President Abraham Lincoln, both at the White House, and in his own home. He became a practised magnetic healer, and then later, a lecturer himself. Edgar Allan Poe was inspired after attending one of his lectures on mesmerism, and he wrote a short story based upon the phenomena. From trance, witnessed and attended by others, Davis dictated a book to a scribe named, William Fishbough. The book is called 'The Principles of Nature, Her Divine Revelations, and a Voice to Mankind' and was published in 1847, when he was just 21 years-old. The book was transcribed taking 15 months of trance sittings. He spoke about the nine planets when there was only seven discovered at that time and was also at times speaking in what was identified as Hebrew. He had said that one of his guides was 'Emanuel Swedenborg' (1688-1772) and what was transcribed was acknowledged by scholars to be in Swedenborg's voice. Furthermore, Andrew Jackson Davis had very short schooling; 5 months of junior education.; due to his poor family circumstances. Davis received criticism from a Reverend about this first book, as it was viewed that he was writing New 'Revelations.' And, of course, he wasn't formerly educated. However, a journalist from a 'Telegraph newspaper, 'in New York, named Charles Partridge, answered and published a response to the criticism of Davis's first book in 1855, And is saved in the American Telegraph archives today. He wrote:

"If the Great Spirit is here, his ministers are also present; the Spirit World is all around us, and we may confidently expect signs, admonitions, and other forms of instruction from the world. But they are not offered as a substitute for the revelations of any other time or people. On the contrary, we demand for the inspiration of both ancient and modern times, and for the spiritual experiences of all ages and nations. In support of Spiritualism, persons, who were regarded as incurable by ordinary professional modes, have been restored to health. Many individuals have been mysteriously admonished of approaching danger; several having been taken up bodily, or otherwise suddenly moved out of the way of impending destruction. Others, being spiritually influenced have avoided collisions on railroads, explosions, shipwrecks, and various disasters by land and sea. Many ignorant persons have been educated by spiritual interposition and influence, and have this become acquainted with the facts and laws of material, and spiritual existence"

Andrew Jackson Davis eventually obtained a degree in natural medicine and moved to Boston, where he opened a bookshop and prescribed herbal remedies to his patients. He published many more books, 30 in total.

"And the world will hail with delight, the ushering in of that era, when the interiors of men will be opened, and the Spiritual Communion will be established. "

Getting to the SAGB

Getting to the SAGB has become a lot easier for those of us north of the river. At present I have to catch the Northern Line, change to the Victoria Line to Victoria Station and then catch a train to Battersea Park Station.

As of the end of September 2021 the Northern Line is running with four trains an hour on week-ends. This will mean, for me at least, that I can travel on the Northern Line from my home to Battersea Park on the same train. Thereafter it will be a short seven minute walk to the SAGB.

Now the extension Has opened there will be an initial peak of six trains per hour, increasing to 12 trains per hour During off-peak times there will be five trains per hour, doubling to 10

Helping to get to the SAGB (after all that is what counts, isn't it) it will help regenerate the Vauxhall, Nine Elms and Battersea areas by supporting new jobs, businesses and homes.

Martin Thompson SAGB Healer and Clinic Leader

SEVEN PRINCIPLES OF THE SAGB

We believe in an Infinite Intelligence,
Who governs all.

We believe that personal identity and all sentient forms of life survive physical death.

We believe that continuous existence and eternal progress occur for all in the Hereafter.

We believe in communion with spiritual realms.

We believe that all humanity is spiritually linked.

We believe that in the Hereafter, all must account for their actions on earth and will judge themselves accordingly.

We believe that all are responsible for the way they conduct their earthly lives.

OUR PHILOSOPHY AND PURPOSE

The primary purpose of the Association is to offer evidence, through mediumship, of the continuation of the personality after physical death and to relieve suffering through spiritual healing.
