Remembering Doris Stokes

researched by Jackie Poole

Doris Stokes, 6 January 1920 - 8th of May 1987, she was born Doris Sutton, in Grantham, Lincolnshire. She started seeing spirits and hearing voices from spirit in childhood, and she developed her abilities further once she joined a local spiritualist church. She was recognised as a practising clairaudience medium by the Spiritualist National Union in 1949. Her ability to communicate with the Spirit World, public performances, television appearances, and memoirs made her a household name in Britain, but first in 1962, Doris then aged 42, trained as a psychiatric nurse and worked in this field for five years before she returned to focus on her psychic work, and in 1975, Doris became the resident medium at the 'Spiritualist Association of Great Britain'.

Doris, first came to mass- public- attention in 1978, during a visit to Australia, when she appeared on the 'Don Lane show'. In the wave of interests that followed her appearance, she played three full capacity audiences at the 'Sydney Opera House' and she was also the first medium to appear at the 'London Palladium' where the tickets sold out in two hours. It is said that she had a smiling, down-to-earth manner, which avoided the traditional trappings of the seance, and gave her performances almost, "the ordinariness of a transatlantic telephone call."

In 1980, her first autobiographical book, "Voices in My Ear" was published and sold more than 2 million copies and Doris was condemned by the Church of England, and other Christian denominations, which objected to spirit communication as an offence to God! She replied that her work was done for God, and in accordance with the Bible that says to, - "test the spirits to see if they are good! ".....

Within this first autobiography, 'Voices in my Ear' Doris shared that during the Second World War, she was officially informed that her husband, John, had been killed. Then, at the height of her grief, she was visited by the spirit of her long, dead father, who declared that her husband was in fact, not dead, but still alive, and that he would soon return home to her and her baby son, John Michael. But her father also warned of the impending death of her healthy baby John Michael, both predictions came true: her husband returned home safely, and John Michael died in her arms.

As Doris was clairaudient, and also an author, she wrote six books that reflected her abilities in their titles, such as: 'More Voices in my Ear', and 'Whispering Voices,' among other such titles.

In the book by English, author, Linda Williamson, titled, 'Mediums and their Work' 1990. Miss Williamson recalls, witnessing one of Doris's stage demonstrations. She reports, listening to gasps from the crowd and Doris relayed a barrage of facts: "hardly pausing for breath, she went on from one person to another, firing off names, sometimes stopping to correct herself, but achieving an accuracy that was astonishing."

A friend of Doris's who was also her co- author called Linda Dearsley published in 'Psychic News' in 2019, that Doris on more than one occasion, had to cancel her sold-out events, and felt awful about having to do so.

However, she always wanted to give of her very best, and not to disappoint people with a poor demonstration of mediumship if for example she was not feeling well." "Doris suffered health problems for many years, apart from having a breast removed due to cancer, and her thyroid was also removed. However, she was good natured throughout, and would sometimes joke, "they are taking me over to the other side bit by bit!"

Years before, Psychic News, October 1979, printed...." British, medium triumphs with tough New Yorkers though she finds New York City, a frightening experience, famous medium Doris Stokes, tired after her hectic 21- day visit, told me last week. She is planning a third trip for 1980.

On her latest foray, she packed in five radio interviews and phone ins, three television shows one lasting two hours, has yet to be screened, and six appearances from 5.30 to 11 pm at a theatre in Greenwich Village. At this theatre she gave daily to demonstrations of clairaudience and answered questions from the audience. In addition, there were press interviews and far more demands for private sittings than she could accept.

Before each appearance, she admits, "I still sit, there, terrified, torturing myself, with the fear that the spirit people may not come through."

But come through they did, Doris feels she has helped to make a dent in New York regarding what survival mediumship is all about.

Now back in her London flat she was facing several piles of mail requesting help from people on both sides of the Atlantic."

And when Doris passed to Spirit aged 67, having not regained consciousness from having a brain tumour removed, the Press couldn't get over the fact that Doris appeared not to have accumulated enormous wealth that they were certain she must have possessed. Stories about the mystery of the 'missing millions!', kept appearing in newspapers. There were dark hints about secret Swiss bank accounts, and offshore companies. They simply could not believe that she gave most of her earnings away. Linda continued that, Knowing Doris: "She would much sooner have had a Swiss roll than a Swiss bank account any day!"

In the book called, 'Voices Everywhere, the mysterious, Doris Stokes effect', 2019, Linda Dearsley wrote,

When asked why the public took Doris to their hearts, Linda said:

"it's an amazing story. Doris was practically agoraphobic and only ever went out to demonstrate or attend a special occasion like a 'Psychic News' dinner dance. Yet, this was the person who passed on the London Palladium, something like eight times, and took Australia by storm, appearing at the Sydney opera house and being whisked all over the country.

I think people warmed to Doris, because of her natural mumsy style, and the fact that she was exactly the same on and off stage. Doris was genuinely surprised that she became the celebrity that celebrities wanted to meet. For instance, she was also genuinely surprised to be asked to appear on BBC radio 4's iconic, Desert Island Discs; nothing ever went to Doris's head.

Doris never changed. All she wanted to do was to help those suffering from grief, and show them that their loved ones, as she always said, "are only a thought away".

SEVEN PRINCIPLES OF THE SAGB

We believe in an Infinite Intelligence,
Who governs all.

We believe that personal identity and all sentient forms of life survive physical death.

We believe that continuous existence and eternal progress occur for all in the Hereafter.

We believe in communion with spiritual realms.

We believe that all humanity is spiritually linked.

We believe that in the Hereafter, all must account for their actions on earth and will judge themselves accordingly.

We believe that all are responsible for the way they conduct their earthly lives.

OUR PHILOSOPHY AND PURPOSE

The primary purpose of the Association is to offer evidence, through mediumship, of the continuation of the personality after physical death and to relieve suffering through spiritual healing.

The Healing Hymn Gracious Spirit

Gracious Spirit, of thy goodness
Hear our anxious prayer
Take our loved ones who are suffering
'Neath thy tender care
Loving Father hear us, hear us

Gracious Spirit may thy presence
Shed a Healing Ray
Turning all their nights of darkness
Into glorious day
Loving Father hear us, hear us

Gracious Spirit, should'st thou claim them
Be their Light and Guide
Lead them to the heavenly kingdom
Safely by thy side
Loving father hear us, hear us

Getting to the SAGB

Getting to the SAGB has become a lot easier for those of us north of the river. At present I have to catch the Northern Line, change to the Victoria Line to Victoria Station and then catch a train to Battersea Park Station.

As of the end of September 2021 the Northern Line is running with four trains an hour on week-ends. This will mean, for me at least, that I can travel on the Northern Line from my home to Battersea Park on the same train. Thereafter it will be a short seven minute walk to the SAGB.

Now the extension Has opened there will be an initial peak of six trains per hour, increasing to 12 trains per hour During off-peak times there will be five trains per hour, doubling to 10

Helping to get to the SAGB (after all that is what counts, isn't it) it will help regenerate the Vauxhall, Nine Elms and Battersea areas by supporting new jobs, businesses and homes.
