

Sunday Service July 19th 2020

Written and recorded by Gina Langsfield during the closure, for the Spiritualist Association of Great Britain

Good afternoon everyone and welcome to our Sunday Reunion.

This is Gina Langsfield, speaking once again on behalf of the SAGB. And for those joining us on Zoom a warm welcome also to our medium for today Dorothy Young. And thanking as always, our chairperson Penny O'Meara.

Would you like to join me please in prayer.

Dear God, loving Spirit

As we join once again together spiritually this afternoon, we pray that the dark and troubled times which have plagued our world these past months may soon be dispelled by the loving benevolence of angelic being. And very soon now light, hope and happiness will dominate once again.

Please help all who have suffered in so many ways, to see fine reason to hope and smile again. And the greatest pray of all goes to the bereaved that they may become aware of the closeness of their Spirit loved ones and may at some point will be able to smile soon in the joy of knowing that life and love are eternal.

Amen

Today I would like to read a poem that I have written for you, which is called Keep smiling, My love

Do not despair, sweetest love, for I shall never forsake you and I swear I will do all within my power, to not let griefs torment break you. If only I could let you know I brush away your tears, if I could only find some way to show, I shall still walk with you through the years. It pains me so, to know your thoughts of me, centre upon my final earthly days, where you sat in fear and anguish by my bedside, and I saw the terror in your gaze. Terror we would soon be parted, but somehow you knew already that would not be the case.

Oh, if I could have told you that partings do not exist, and remove the hopelessness from your dear face. Yet, the cruel illness took me away from you, in the sense of the physical life that we share, but my true life, our true love, and our eternal bond have in reality become in no way impaired. If only you could see me, as clearly as I still see you. If only you knew that I walk beside you as I always did, and still want all our planned dreams to come true. So, this is the truth of eternal life, but there is no such thing as death. The moment of passing from the physical body gives to us our first spiritual breath.

The illness could not truly take me from you. I share your life in my spiritual form, in summer heat I cool you as I stroke your face, and in the winter my hug keeps you warm. I spur you on, to achieve our shared ambitions. And somehow need to prove to you that life never ends. I am part of each holiday and celebration. I am there with you and our family and friends. I so need you just to keep smiling my love, and to understand when earth life battle is done. I shall come to collect you with joy in my heart and the best days of our life will have begun. But until that glorious day comes. I just need you to know, that our love bond is too strong for physical death to sever and side by side we will get through the years to come until we are fully reunited, forever.

On behalf of our manager Karl and the trustees, our mediums, healers and of course myself Gina, we thank you for joining us and God bless.

Spoken by Gina Langsfield

Background Music Nat King Cole - Smile